British Industry To Hum Monday as Coal Cabinet Lifts Electrical Curbs

LONDON, Feb. 26—(AP)—All electrically powered industry in Britain will be back in production Monday, the government announced Friday night.

Prime Minister Attlee's "coal cabinet" decided Friday on restoration in London and Southeastern England, as well as in the Northwest, of power cuts imposed Feb. 10.

The Midlands, the third area affected by a fuel crisis that paralyzed industries in half of Britain, began restorations this week.

Restrictions on domestic use of electricity will remain in effect in all Britain.

Snow spread from the north of England to the south coast and more was expected. Temperatures hovered around freezing as they did over most of Europe, with no early prospect of a general thaw.

Heavy snow fell in France, Belgium, Holland and Southern Germany, while the temperature in Berlin rose slowly toward the thawing point. Subzero weather continued in Scandinavia. Cold rain fell in Northern Italy, where the temperature hung just above freezing.

Two-Way Phone Service for Private Plane

BOSTON, Feb. 28—(AP)—The New England Telephone Company Friday reported the first privately owned airplane to be registered with it for two-way telephone service.

Officials said the plane, owned by Howes Brothers Company, a Boston leather concern, has been licensed by the Federal Communications Commission. It will be serviced through ship telephone station WOU, Green Harbor.

Radio telephone equipment has been installed in Baltimore, Md.

The plane is one of five in the country equipped with the two-way service, the telephone company said.

Britain, France To Sign 50-Year Treaty

LONDON, Feb. 28—(AP)—The Foreign Ministers of Britain and France announced to their approving parliaments Friday that a 50-year treaty of alliance between the two countries would be signed Tuesday at the historic French Channel Port of Dunkerque.

France and Britain already have treaties of mutual assistance with Russia. Both documents are aimed especially at Germany, but express agreement also on co-operation for the security and economic betterment of Europe.

'America Wants Truman,' Declares Tom Clark

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 28—(UP)—Attorney General Tom C. Clark Friday night told a $250-per-plate Democratic Party dinner that "America wants Harry Truman in 1948"—for another term as President. In a speech prepared for delivery at a Jefferson jubilee dinner, the Attorney General added a strong indorsement to the declaration by Party Chairman Robert Hannegan that the Democrats want Mr. Truman as their next Presidential candidate.

Boost in Coach, Pullman Fares Sought

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28—(INS)—Eastern railroads petitioned the Interstate Commerce Commission Friday to allow them to boost passenger coach fares to 2.5 cents a mile and parlor car and sleeper rates to 3.5 cents a mile.

Current rates are 2.2 cents and 3.3 cents, respectively. The rate hike would represent a 12.63 percent rise in coach fares and a 6 percent boost in parlor car and sleeper rates.

Chinese Reds Ordered To Get Out

NANKING, Feb. 27—(AP)—The National Government, charging the Communists with "open rebellion," ordered the Communist delegation Friday night to get out of Government territory by Wednesday.

On the fighting fronts, late dispatches said the Government Air Forces had slowed a Communist drive on Changchun, Manchurian capital, within 10 miles of the city, while other Communists were attacking the "outer ring" of the defenses of Tsinan, capital of Shantung Province.

2 Killed as Ship's Engine Explodes

NEW YORK, Feb. 28—(UP)—The Coast Guard has announced that at least two men were killed and an undetermined number were critically injured late Friday in the explosion of a ship, the Ben Froemming, near Oak Point, La.

The Coast Guard in New York said dispatches from the scene reported the Ben Froemming was on a trial run when its "main engine" exploded.

The two dead were identified only as Chadfield and Vassell. Master of the ship was identified as Leavitt.

Jewel Case Prosecutor Accused of Threat

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28—(AP)—An attorney for a witness at Col. Jack W. Durant's military trial in connection with the Hesse jewel theft said Friday his client was threatened by the prosecutor and he is prepared to prove it.

Frank L. Ball, Jr., attorney for Mrs. James E. Durant, sister-in-law of the Air Forces Colonel on trial, told the eight-man military court that Maj. Joseph S. Robinson, the prosecutor, "warned" Mrs. Durant just before she took the witness stand Wednesday that her husband faced prosecution. Robinson denied it.

Truman Reindorses Clapp for TVA Post

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28—(AP)—President Truman, commenting on a Senate Committee's rejection Friday of his nomination of Gordon R. Clapp to be director of the Tennessee Valley Authority, said he is still behind Clapp just as he is behind the Lilienthal nomination. David Lilienthal held the job for which Clapp was nominated until Truman named him to head the Atomic Energy Commission. The vote was 7-5—two Democrats and three Republicans for confirmation and three Democrats and four Republicans against.

Lilienthal's nomination also has encountered heavy going in Senate Committee hearings.

Industry-Wide Bargain Bill Seen Soon

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28—(AP)—Chairman Fred A. Hartley, Jr., New Jersey, announced Friday, after a poll of his House Labor Committee, that proposals might be drafted "within a few days" to outlaw industry-wide collective bargaining.

He said the poll showed a narrow margin of support for an effective ban, but that details remained to be worked out. He added that he had found considerable opposition to the ban proposed by Sen. Joseph H. Ball, Republican, Minnesota, which is being studied by the Senate Labor Committee, and predicted it would "never get through" Congress "because it doesn't do what it is supposed to do."

Porter Killed, 11 Hurt in Runaway Pullman

GALLITZIN, Pa., Feb. 28—(AP)—A runaway sleeper on the Pennsylvania Railroad's New York-to-Texas "Sunshine Special" raced crazily down mountainside tracks in the predawn darkness Friday, killing a Pullman porter as he tugged futilely at the emergency brakes and injuring 11 others.

Its sleepy passengers flattened themselves in the aisles to avoid flying glass during the agonizing 3½-mile backward run, which started after the car broke loose from the train at the crest of the Allegheny Mountains while one of its two engines was being cut off.

Its mad flight halted when the rear wheels left the rails and plowed into an embankment.

The wreck occurred a mile and a quarter from Bennington Curve, where the railroad's "Red Arrow" plunged over an embankment last week, killing 24 and injuring more than 150.

SNOW FOLLOWED BY YOUNG LADIES ON SLEDS—Among the thousands of Atlantans who awakened Friday to find the city draped in a new white dress was attractive Mrs. Mickie Oglesby, who immediately grabbed a little-used sled to get in a few slides at Piedmont Park before the sun melted away the snow. The weather man said the year's first appreciable snow was one-half inch in depth, falling for four hours.

OPA Fund Is Set at 17 Million

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28—(UP) The Senate Appropriations Committee voted Friday to give OPA $17,000,000, but doubted it would be enough to keep the tottering agency alive until June 30.

By its action, the Committee rejected the immediate death sentence passed by the House under which OPA not only was denied additional funds to stay in business but was called on to refund $9,000,000 in its cash drawer.

The Senate Committee recommended the agency be allowed to keep the $9,000,000. Then, by a vote of 8 to 5, it approved an additional appropriation of $7,991,815 to be used strictly for liquidation operations between now and June 30, when the remaining controls over rents, sugar and rice are terminated by law.

OPA officials said the amount set aside for liquidation would prove insufficient. They estimated approximately $4,000,000 would have to be drawn from the $9,000,000 to make up the deficit, leaving only about $5,000,000 for actual operating expenses. Previously, they figured they would need about $20,000,000 in operating funds to remain in business until the end of this fiscal year.

Chairman Styles Bridges, Republican, New Hampshire, told reporters the Committee's decision meant OPA must "start folding up immediately" and order "a drastic reduction of its forces."

Bridges believe, however, Congress would act before June 30 to transfer sugar and rice controls to the Agriculture Department and rent controls to some other agency. The Senate Banking Committee is considering a plan to turn rent control over to the courts.

The Committee action now is subject to Senate approval. Then the question must be sent back to the House where Republicans are cracking the economy whip and foes of OPA are legion. The House is not expected to give the agency a single penny without a bitter fight.

Chairman John Taber, Republican, New York, of the House Appropriations Committee, said in a letter to Bridges if OPA cut its present staff to honest size, it could refund not $9,000,000 but at least $15,000,000 to the Treasury.

Complaining OPA's employees are "ornamental rather than useful," Taber told Bridges the agency "should not have more" than 12 persons working on sugar controls, 30 to 40 on rents, and 25 on general enforcement activities in its Washington office.

He said the number of workers needed in field offices could be cut to 1,000 for carrying out the sugar program and 3,000 for rent duties. Bridges said OPA's total payroll now was between 13,000 and 14,000.

Budget Tangle Back In House

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28—(UP)—The Senate kept a promise of lower income taxes dangling before the public Friday by voting unanimously to put a one percent limit of $2,600,000,000 on budget savings available for trimming the $260,000,000,000 national debt.

Administration Democrats fought to apply all such savings to the debt and thus scuttle GOP hopes of cutting taxes 20 percent, but they were defeated, 49 to 33.

The decision, which tossed the whole budget controversy back to the House, came as the Senate gave final approval to a resolution to lop $4,500,000,000 from President Truman's 1948 fiscal spending program. The House previously voted for a $6,000,000,000 cut.

The unanimous, standing vote of 82 Senators was a compromise between opposing Republican factions led by Sens. Knowland, California and Taft, Ohio.

Under the compromise, both Senators agreed that the way would be kept open for a 20 percent personal income tax slash, which treasury experts estimated would cost about $3,500,000,000 a year. Here's the way they figure it:

The Treasury has estimated revenue in the next fiscal year will amount to $39,000,000,000. The President asked permission to spend $37,500,000,000. By proposing to chop his plan down to $33,000,000,000, the Senate would give the Treasury a surplus of $6,000,000,000. Out of this amount, it voted to set aside $2,600,000,000 for debt reduction. The remaining $3,400,000,000 would just about take care of the proposed 20 percent tax cut, with nothing left over for an emergency in the event revenue failed to come up to expectations.

House Republicans, demanding greater economy all along the line, including drastic cuts in Army and Navy spending which the Senate frowned on, predicted the House would reject the Senate plan. Some said they would settle for nothing less than a $5,250,000,000 surplus and provide a comfortable emergency "cushion" between debt and tax reduction.

The House, which said nothing about trimming the debt when it approved the original budget cut, may use that issue to force the Senate to agree to a $5,250,000,000 compromise. If the Senate insists on setting aside a substantial sum for paying off part of the debt it may have to yield to the House on that figure.

Taft, demanding rejection of Knowland's debt proposal, told the Senate that present taxes are "a tremendous burden" on about 44,000,000 citizens earning $5,000 a year or less. He said they also are preventing those in higher brackets from investing capital in new enterprises to stimulate production and employment.

"Let's not tie our hands against reducing taxes at this time," he said. "If, when we consider the question and there's anything more left over, we can add more to payment of the debt."

Only German Monopoly Is Red, Clay Retorts

BERLIN, Feb. 28—(UP)—Gen. Lucius D. Clay, American Military Governor-Designate in Germany, charged Friday the only capitalistic monopoly in Germany was a Soviet corporation.

Clay's charge was contained in a strongly worded reply to Soviet Marshal Vassily Sokolovsky's accusations the Anglo-American zonal merger violated the Potsdam Declaration and American firms were forming monopolies in Germany.

"The only foreign monopoly in Germany known to the American Military Government consists of the Soviet A. G. (Inc.) Corporation," Clay said.

As far as Sokolovsky's charge regarding American monopolies was concerned," Clay said, "this particular observation of the Soviet Military Government is extremely interesting in view of information which has come to us that Russia has taken over ownership of one-third of the industry now remaining in the Soviet zone, to include the largest and most efficient plants."

Clay also noted Sokolovsky made no reference to the "acknowledged fact" much of the current production in the Soviet zone is being removed from Germany without payment.

Actually, the United States investment in Germany has not increased "by one penny" during the occupation, Clay said. He disclosed the U. S. had proposed to the Allied Control Authority a moratorium on all foreign investments, but Russia and France rejected the proposal.

Clay reissued his invitation to the Soviet Union to join the West-

Cold Wave Due Tonight; Rains Today

An unsubdued weatherman late Friday was still holding to his forecast of light rains and warmer temperatures for today, this despite an hour of sleet and four hours of snow early Friday which crossed up his forecast of cloudy and cool.

"Just a freak meteorological condition" was the way he explained the snow.

The "freak" covered half of Georgia. The snow extended from Dalton, in northern Georgia, to Macon, in the center of the State, but the half-inch fleecy mantle was all melted by noon. Very late risers were unconvinced there had been snow.

Anyway, the weatherman predicts light rains for today and possibly Sunday with a cold wave to move in tonight. Sunday will be colder and Monday much colder, he said.

Cite Woman Nazi In Mass Killing

DACHAU, Germany, Feb. 28—(AP)—U. S. War Crimes Prosecutors accused a German woman doctor Friday of indirect responsibility for the death of nearly half the 80,000 male concentration camp prisoners whom she forced to march in naked review before her.

The doctor, Erika Flocken, passed on the physical condition of male inmates in the Mueldorf Concentration Camp in 1944 and 1945.

House Votes To Kill Portal Claims, 345-56

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28—(UP)—The House Friday passed, 345 to 56, a bill to outlaw nearly $6,000,000,000 in portal-to-portal pay claims and to clamp a one-year limit on all suits for back wages and overtime.

The measure was sent at once to the Senate which next week opens debate on a milder version which calls for a two-year limitation.

A solid bloc of Republicans and most of the Southern Democrats pushed the measure through after beating down a series of "liberalizing" amendments.

Voting for it were 230 Republicans and 115 Democrats. Against it were 50 Democrats, five Republicans and one American-Laborite—Vito Marcantonio of New York.

Inspired by the flood of CIO suits for back portal pay which now total nearly $6,000,000,000, the Senate and House bills would outlaw virtually all suits—past, present and future—claiming pay for time workers spent in walking to their benches, unpacking their tools and other pre-work activities.

Claims could be filed only if they were based on provision of existing contracts or the "customary practices" of industry.

The statute of limitation—one year under the House bill and two under the Senate's—would apply to all suits brought under the Wagner Labor Act to recover back wages, overtime or other compensation.

All Georgia representatives voted "Aye" on the portal-to-portal measure.

The House bill, unlike the Senate version, contains a provision to relieve employers of responsibility in paying back claims if they can prove they acted in "good faith" as a result of a court ruling or a decision or regulation of a government agency.

The only major opposition developed around efforts to raise the statute of limitation from one to two or three years.

Jurors Rap Paroles Here

In presentments among the shortest on record, the Fulton County Grand Jury Friday deplored "the seemingly continuous probating and paroling of habitual criminals."

The Grand Jury also recommended policemen and detectives be instructed to exercise more care in preparing evidence to be submitted to the Solicitor General and to the Grand Jury. It concurred with the November-December Grand Jury's opinion that juvenile delinquency is one of the most pressing problems of the day and urged provision of adequate facilities for delinquents.

The presentments took up only two typewritten pages.

'Cut Relief Funds To Bone'—Hoover

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28—(UP) Warning American resources are not unlimited, former President Herbert Hoover advised Congress Friday to cut foreign relief spending to an absolute minimum and to take Europe's needy nations off the charity rolls by insisting on prompt repayment for future aid.

Fresh from a three-week food survey of Germany for President Truman, Hoover told a warmly approving House Foreign Affairs Committee it was in the interest of the United States and the entire world for Congress to "stop, look and listen" before approving further relief grants.

Soong Reported Out As Premier of China

SHANGHAI, China, Saturday, March 1—(UP)—Dr. T. V. Soong, whose economic and fiscal policies have long been under criticism, resigned as premier of China today, dispatches from Nanking said.

Soong, often described as Chiang Kai-Shek's right hand man, said he had handed his resignation to the Generalissimo and it had been accepted. The former premier is a brother of Mme. Chiang Kai-Shek.

Tottering Britain Asks U.S. to Assume Load in Greece To Offset Collapse

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28—(UP) The United States is considering a momentous decision to bulwark Britain's tottering position in Greece with money and military materiel to halt a feared expansion of Russian power across the Middle East into Asia.

The urgency of the situation was laid before a delegation of congressional leaders by President Truman and Secretary of State Marshall at a secret White House conference Thursday.

In effect, the President and Marshall warned that the British stand in Greece must be maintained at all costs and that Britain, beset by economic troubles at home and along her far line of empire, cannot hold on alone for more than another month or two.

To prevent a British collapse which would unsettle the whole shaky balance of power in the Middle East, they are understood to have informed the congressional delegation that the United States must assume the bulk of Britain's commitments in Greece, even at the risk of a serious rift with Russia.

It was emphasized that no American troops would be sent to Greece to replace the 10,000 British soldiers there, but that Mr. Truman and Marshall wanted U. S. military equipment and supplies for the Greek army and substantial economic aid for the Greek people.

Early this week Senate Republican Whip Kenneth S. Wherry, of Nebraska, said in a biting speech that he had heard the United States will soon loan a "certain nation" $1,500,000,000. Friday he challenged members of the Foreign Relations Committee to reveal whether a loan to Greece is in prospect. He went on to say that such a proposal should be considered only in connection with congressional action on limiting Federal spending, "and not after the State Department has completed the deal."

At his weekly press conference Friday, the President sidestepped all questions on the British-Greek situation. He declined to make any comment on that or the secret White House conference.

Authoritative sources said the issue was put squarely to the congressional delegation as "perhaps the most far-reaching since the end of World War II."

They were told that it affects not only Greek and Middle Eastern security but that of Western Europe and, ultimately, of the entire globe.

One source said the question was discussed "without one vestige of partisan politics but as a momentous decision that may have to be faced by the entire nation."

"We are seeing the British Empire break up right before our eyes," said Sen. Wayne L. Morse, Republican, Oregon, who was not in on the White House parley.

"We can no longer rely on Great

Paul Mantz Hangs Up Speed Record As 'Betty Jo' Claims Non-Stop Title

NEW YORK, Feb. 28—(UP)—Two spectacular endurance flights ended triumphantly at LaGuardia Field Friday, one establishing a new non-stop distance record for fighter planes and the other a new transcontinental speed record for propellor-driven single-engined planes.

The freak twin-engined, twin-fuselaged Mustang fighter, "Betty Jo," arrived at 11:06 a. m., 5,051 miles and 14 hours, 33 minutes after taking off from Hickam Field, Honolulu.

At 3:36 p. m., a converted P-51 Mustang, roared past LaGuardia's control tower, six hours, seven minutes and five seconds after its takeoff from Burbank, Calif.

From the freak fighter, stepped its two-man crew—Lt. Col. Robert E. Thacker, Chief Pilot, and Lt. John M. Ard, Co-Pilot—tired but none the worse for having flown non-stop one-fifth the distance around the world.

Theirs was the longest sustained flight by a fighter plane. They had lifted the greatest load from the ground that a fighter plane ever lifted. And they were the first to fly non-stop from Hawaii to New York. Their average speed was a little better than 348 miles an hour.

In the other Mustang was Paul Mantz, movie stunt and speed flier. He had smashed the record set May 12, 1944, by Lt. Col. Jack Carter of six hours, 30 minutes, 30 seconds. The transcontinental speed record for any type plane is four hours, 13 minutes, 30 seconds set by Col. William Council in a jet-propelled P-80 fighter on Jan. 26, 1946. The famous superfortress, "Dreamboat," made it in five hours and 27 minutes on Dec. 11, 1945 and so holds the record for multiengined craft.

Mantz took off from Burbank Airport at 9:28 a. m. (EST) and was not reported along the entire route until he swooped down on LaGuardia. His stripped Mustang, "The Blaze of Doom," won the Bendix trophy race last year by flying from Burbank to Cleveland at 435.6 miles an hour. His average speed Friday exceeded 395 miles an hour.

The flight of the Army's freak fighter was no "stunt," the Army Air Force said, but one of hundreds of tests underway for fighting equipment. Called a P-82, it is made up of the fuselages and motors of two Mustangs mounted on a single wing. It is one plane in the evolution toward a long range fighter capable of accompanying and protecting such long range bombers as the superfortresses to the far corners of the earth. It also carried special equipment to minimize the fatigue of men cooped in cockpits and under flying strain for many hours.

Fatal Palestine Explosion Injures 6 As 1,350 Arrive on Refugee Ship

HAIFI, Palestine, Feb. 28—(AP) One person was killed and six injured in a bomb explosion on an upper floor of Barclay's Bank here Friday during mounting tension over arrival of a refugee ship carrying 1,350 uncertified Jewish immigrants to Palestine.

Crowds surged through Haifa's main street during the day and a maze of road blocks was hastily manned by British troops to prevent their storming the suburb of Bat Galim, as urged by curbstone speakers. Excitement appeared subsiding Friday night, despite the departure of a British transport deporting some of the newly arrived refugees to Cyprus.

The explosion killed a Jewish employee of the British Navy Pay Office, and injured an English girl employee, four other Palestinian Jewish members of the staff and a British soldier, who discovered the bomb and attempted to defuse it. Two floors of the modern four-story building were wrecked, but Barclay's bank quarters on the ground floor were undamaged.

The refugee ship, the Haim Arlosoroff, lay aground in clear view of Haifi throughout the day and British naval craft could be seen removing its passengers to British transports.

The transport Empire Ocean Guard sailed late Friday afternoon for Cyprus with 275 passengers transferred from the Haim Arlosoroff, and the remainder of the refugee vessel's passengers was being put aboard the transport Ocean Vigour Friday night.

In Jerusalem, the Palestine High Court granted a restraining order against deportation of the Haim Arlosoroff's passengers asked by the Jewish Community Council. The order directed that representatives of the Palestine Government appear in Court Tuesday to show cause why the refugees should be deported. Authorities at Haifa, however, apparently either had not been notified of the order or were disregarding it.

An American Consular official sent to Haifa to investigate reports that the refugee ship had an American captain and crew said Friday night that of 10 of the crew identified, only two claimed to be American and the remainder spoke only Yiddish and Hebrew. It was rumored in Haifa that the ship sailed from a Swedish port and its passengers appeared to be from Eastern Europe.

Many of the passengers appeared ill and ambulances moved to and from the port area. Some of the refugees said they had been at sea for five weeks and were without water for two days.

They also reported five passengers and two British sailors had been injured in fighting when the ship was boarded Friday. The passengers' resistance was halted by tear gas, they added.

Farmer Dies Of Wounds by House Looter

W. H. Rawlins, 70-year-old Stone Mountain farmer and dairyman, died early Friday in Emory University Hospital from pistol wounds said by police to have been inflicted by a burglar at the home of the dead man's sisters-in-law, Miss Odel Strickland and Miss Cora Strickland, in DeKalb County.

The elderly Gwinnett Countian was shot Thursday while investigating voices coming from the women's house while they were in Atlanta shopping.

Funeral arrangements will be announced by A. S. Turner & Sons.

Mr. Rawlins was a lifelong resident of Gwinnett County and a member of the Zion Baptist Church.

Surviving are his wife; six sons, Vernon, Elvin, Lawrence, Lawton and Deward Rawlins, all of Stone Mountain, and James Rawlins, of Lithonia; two daughters, Mrs. J. B. Hulme, of Pascagoula, Miss., and Mrs. N. L. Campbell, of Stone Mountain; a brother, J. P. Rawlins, of Decatur; two sisters, Mrs. Fred Sheppard, and Mrs. Dave Long, both of Atlanta.

DeKalb police, who had been trailing the burglar with bloodhounds, reported they had lost the trail in Stone Mountain.

Gen. W. J. Snow Dies in Washington

Maj. Gen. William J. Snow, 78, the former husband of the former Miss Belle Locke, died Thursday in Walter Reed Hospital in Washington, D. C., after a long illness.

Gen. Snow, Chief of Field Artillery in World War I, was the first artillery chief, and was aided in the organization of the artillery department by Gen. Edward P. King, of Atlanta.

He is survived by several grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Jackets Triumph Over 'Bama, 43-40

By JIMMY WALL
Constitution Sports Writer.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 28—Staving off a desperate last-minute rally after commanding play almost all the way, Georgia Tech's unseeded cagers blasted their way into the semi-finals of the SEC tournament by upsetting fourth-seeded Alabama, 43-40, here tonight.

This victory put Tech against top-seeded Kentucky tomorrow morning. Tulane, 47-41 upset winners over Tennessee today, meets LSU in the other semi-final battle.

The Jackets, losers in two regular season games with 'Bama, were ubeatable tonight as big Jim Nolan held the Tide's Jim Homer to 10 points before fouling out in the last four minutes. Homer, leading SEC scorer, hit for three quick baskets with Nolan out, but they were not enough.

Frank Broyles played one of his greatest games in taking high point honors with 12. Colin Anderson and dependable Wes Paxson hit 11 apiece. Freshman Henry Schoening, playing before a home town crowd, was aggressive all night in his starting forward position.

The lead changed hands four times in the first half before Broyles and Anderson cracked away on long shots to put Tech ahead, 25-18, at the half. 'Bama went ahead briefly after three minutes, but the Jackets, moving once again, took over at 30-28.

With six minutes left Tech led, 40-28, but with Nolan out, the Tide closed within 3 points at the whistle. The Jackets froze the ball long enough in the final minutes to slow down the Tide rally.

Tulane's Green Wave pulled the first upset of the tourney this afternoon by snatching victory from third-seeded Tennessee in the final minues.

The slow-moving Vols were in charge most of the way, but Cliff Wells' fast-breaking Greenies began to roll with eight minutes left. They trailed at that point, 35-30. Outmaneuvering the lanky Tennesseans, Tulane went ahead, 43-41, with one minute and 20 seconds left and stayed there.

LSU found a surprising Florida five tough for one half and led only 29-24 at the midway mark. The second-seeded Tigers finally began to roll and with Bobby Lowther hitting for 14 points, won easily, 60-45.

Kentucky moved into the semi-finals with a merciless 84-18 smashing of Auburn in Friday night's final game.

GIAA Kills Tech Claim To Court Championship

By CHARLIE ROBERTS
Constitution Sports Writer.

AUGUSTA, Feb. 28—After a stormy session, the GIAA voted here Friday not to recognize Tech High or any other school as pre-tournament league basketball champion. A coaches' committee previously had recommended that the Smithies be recognized officially as titlists and be awarded a trophy and gold basketballs.

Joel Eaves, representing Boys High, and Bud Harris, of GMA, joined Richmond Academy, Savannah, Lanier and Catholic Boys High in defeating the measure to uphold the Tech High claim by a 6-5 vote.

O. V. Bruner, of Tech High; Father John McDonald, of Marist; Shorty Register, of Jordan; Dick Butler, of Columbus, and H. Q. Tucker, of Rome, voted in favor of proclaiming Tech High the champion. Savannah, with a 10-1 record for the year, also claimed the title.

Tech High's 12-4 claim was based on an alleged rule that a minimum of 15 games must be played. Coach Eaves previously had admitted he understood that rule was in effect. He made no comment as to why he voted against his announced opinion.

Eaves did try to have Tech High named "Big Five" champs after the GIAA voted down the Smithies as season's titlists.

Jordan placed three men on the coaches' pre-tournament All-GIAA team picked today. Lanier placed two players and Boys High, Tech, Richmond, Columbus and Savannah one each.

Benny Register, Jack Abell and Bobby Land were Jordan players chosen. Minton Williams and Ralph Beazley were Lanier's selections. Alvin Halpern, of Boys High; Bob (Turkey) Kirk, of Tech High; Barry Blemker, of Richmond; Phillip Byrne, of Columbus, and John Rousakis, of Savannah, were others chosen.

A proposal to form a GIAA basketball league for future years was voted down, and the Spring sports program at Athens was postponed from May 2 to May 9 and 10. The next GIAA meeting was set May 9 in Athens.

Baker Village, of Columbus, was admitted to membership in the GIAA. Alex Truitt will be the new head coach there this Fall.

GOODMAN GETS PREPARED—Bill Goodman, right, former Cracker outfielder sold recently to the Boston Red Sox for a record Southern League price, is visiting in Atlanta on his way to Spring training. Bill stopped by to purchase a new glove and other equipment from Tommy Reeder, left, at Reeder-McGaughey Sporting Goods Store yesterday. Bill reports at Sarasota Sunday.

Bill Goodman Nearly Missed Big Chance

By F. M. WILLIAMS

Bill Goodman, the 21-year-old outfielder whose sale to the Boston Red Sox recently almost doubled the previous price paid for a Southern League player, almost played himself right out of organized baseball during the Winter.

The youthful North Carolinian, in Atlanta on his way to the Red Sox training camp at Sarasota, Fla., revealed yesterday that he come "within an inch" of accepting a bid to play during the winter in Cuba, and if he had he would have automatically been suspended from organized ball for five years.

"Boy, am I lucky I didn't go down there," Bill smiled. "The fellow that runs the league, a man named Acosta, called me up and said that Commissioner Chandler had okayed Americans playing in Cuba and he made me a very attractive offer.

"Something told me I'd better check up, so I called Mr. Mann (Earl Mann, Cracker president) and he was out of town. Mrs. Hinton (Mann's secretary), advised me to get in touch with Judge Bramham and when I called him at Durham he put me straight right quick."

Goodman said he had been ordered to report to the Red Sox camp anytime Sunday and that he would begin training with Manager Joe Cronin's club on Monday.

He signed the first contract the Red Sox sent him several days ago.

"I haven't heard anything from the Red Sox officials other than when to report," Bill said.

Only 21 years old, Goodman is the finest prospect developed in the Southern for more than a decade. Official announcement of the price the Bosox paid Atlanta for his contract has never been announced, but it was closer to $75,000 than to the $50,000 price tag put on him last season when he hit .389 for the Crackers in 86 games.

Bill has no illusions about the job ahead of him. He knows it will take a lot of work for him to stick with the American League champions his first year, but he doesn't mind work. Many baseball experts think he has better than an even chance to stay in the majors.

Lanier and Savannah Move to GIAA Finals

By CHARLIE ROBERTS
Constitution Sports Writer.

AUGUSTA, Feb. 28—Defending Champion Savannah High and Lanier, of Macon, advanced to the finals of the annual GIAA tournament here tonight, downing Jordan of Columbus and Richmond Academy, the host team, respectively.

The high-scoring Poets had little trouble in beating Richmond, leading all the way for a 59 to 28 decision.

Chick Shiver's Savannah Geechies came from behind to take the measure of Shorty Register's Jordan quintet, 56-51, in a thrilling, wild and woolly opener which saw a brief free-for-all skirmish and pile up just before the final whistle. The Red Jackets, from Columbus, led 16-15 at the quarter and 30-24 at the half but fell behind 37-36 at the three-quarter mark.

The lead was tied four times in the first half and the lead changed hands eight times, but the losers never did quite manage to catch up in the fourth quarter after their two aces, Jack Abell and Bobby Land, each with 16 points, fouled out of the game. The whole story was that Jordan could find no one to halt rugged, tall John Rousakis, all-GIAA center, who poured 32 points through the hoops, 20 in the last half and 14 in the last quarter.

Decatur Nips Marietta, Meets Canton Tonight

By RUSSELL MUSGRAVE

A last-second one-handed shot from the side by Jim Umbricht in an overtime period gave Decatur a 36-35 triumph over Marietta in a nip-and-tuck battle at College Park Auditorium Friday night and earned the Bulldogs a place in the NGIC finals tonight with Canton, the defending champions.

Canton, leading all the way, trounced Commercial, 51-31, and will meet Decatur at 8:30 tonight, following a final consolation round between Commercial and Marietta starting at 7:30.

Decatur and Marietta were on even terms all the way. An 8-5 first-quarter lead by Decatur melted to a 15-14 Marietta halftime margin and Marietta held a 23-22 edge at the three-quarter mark. The Bulldogs took a two-point lead with three minutes to go, but Charlie Hipsher, who caged 18 points, tied it up at 30-all with a pair of foul shots.

Umbricht connected on a long to shove Decatur in front again, but Charlie Rohner stole the ball with five seconds left and scored to send the game into overtime. The Bulldogs trailed, 34-35, with 20 seconds remaining in the extra period when Umbricht came through with his game-winning heave from the side.

Crackers Sell Ben Steiner to Detroit Tigers

Sale of Infielder Ben Steiner, purchased recently from Louisville, to the Detroit Tigers, was announced yesterday by Pres. Earl Mann, of the Crackers.

Steiner had been counted on heavily at second base, but Mann said the sale was in keeping with the Cracker policy of giving a all player a chance if the majors want him. Steiner was bought by the Tigers as insurance against Eddie Mayo's back operation, which may or may not have been successful.

The sale is on condition, and if Steiner fails to stick after a 30-day trial, he will be returned to Atlanta.

It was learned that President Truman asked for no specific legislation to help Greece. If it is needed, the legislation will be drafted and submitted to Congress shortly by State Department experts. If it is not needed, the administration presumably will act promptly on its own.

If Britain is forced to withdraw her security forces it is believed almost certain that that unhappy country will explode into another civil war from which the Communists probably would emerge victorious.

Stock Sales

NEW YORK, Feb. 28—(AP)—Assorted stocks continued to achieve some headway in today's market but leaders generally refused to follow through on Thursday's rally and dealings were among the slowest of the year to date.

Indifference ruled from the start. The ticker tape frequently dozed. Declines of fractions to a point or more predominated at the close. Coppers such as Anaconda, Kennecott and Phelps Dodge edged forward in the final half hour when the Reconstruction Finance Corporation announced it was raising its selling price for the metal to 21½ cents a pound.

NEW YORK RANGE

NEW YORK, Feb. 28 — (AP) — Cotton futures were irregular in moderately active dealings today. Traders appeared disturbed over Washington reports that the government was considering complete elimination of the cotton export subsidy. This caused nervous liquidation in early dealings, which depressed prices more than $1.00 a bale. Later the market moved upward on mill buying against textile sales and commission house buying in the new crop months.

Gains in the nearby deliveries were limited by profit taking and persistent hedging against increased sales of spot cotton at primary markets.

Tell Your Representative What You Think

Members of the Georgia Legislature are enjoying another long weekend at home, probably their last before the end of the current session.

With adjournment only three weeks away, and with a very great deal of important legislation yet to be considered, it is unlikely that the solons will be taking any more extended leaves.

This weekend, therefore, will be just about the last opportunity the people of Georgia will have to make known their sentiments on the various issues yet to be determined.

Especially is it desirable that the representatives learn how the public feels on the question of a general sales tax, House action on which is scheduled for Monday.

A three percent retail sales tax, according to its proponents, will bring in nearly $30,000,000 in additional revenue annually. It is, they contend, the only practical means of raising the money necessary to provide the expanded services which Eugene Talmadge pledged in his successful campaign for the governorship last Summer.

Opponents of the measure say that a sales tax is inequitable, that it places too great a burden on the poor, and that the necessary additional revenue can be raised by enacting a number of other levies. Moreover, there are many who, while agreeing to the principle of a sales tax, will seek to exempt various commodities, possibly resulting in rendering the return inadequate.

Meanwhile, throughout the State there is a growing realization that Georgia's entire tax structure is in need of complete revision. It has been suggested that a commission of experts be named to study the situation and make recommendations to the next Legislature. Georgia's tax structure is a patchwork which, like Topsy, just growed. Certainly it could and should be improved.

But the need and the time is now.

The Georgia Assembly is faced with the problem of raising as much additional annual revenue in the next three weeks as it took to run the State up until 20 years ago.

We are convinced that the average legislator wants to do the job and that he is anxious that his action in the matter faithfully reflects the wishes of his people.

If you have any convictions on the subject, you owe it to the cause of democratic government to convey them to your representative.

Hurting Labor's Cause

By an embittered, spoiled-brat attitude toward any restrictive legislation whatever, labor continues to lose friends and alienate people. Words smacking of James C. Petrillo or John L. Lewis were voiced by Rep. Cicero Kendrick of Fulton County, editor of the AFL Labor Journal, when he declared labor would "not yield" to the open shop and prohibition of involuntary checkoff legislation if passed by the General Assembly.

Although believing firmly that labor unions should be held responsible under the law, The Constitution never has felt that the General Assembly was called upon to pass regulating bills. Federal legislation which would operate with uniformity throughout the nation is, in our opinion, preferable. But both branches of the State Legislature have passed labor regulating bills and, once signed by the Chief Executive, they will become a part of our law. As such, they will be entitled to and must have the respect of labor as well as all other citizens. Labor cannot, as too many of its leaders indicate they would like, set itself above and beyond the reach of the law.

If labor attempts to flout the law, the resulting anarchy will be far worse than anything that ever has happened in Georgia. Rep. Kendrick accuses one of the two Governors, and we presume he means M. E. Thompson, of not obeying the Legislature and deduces that if he can disobey the law so can labor. The comparison is childish at its best. Lawyers agree that both Thompson and Herman Talmadge have legal basis to their claims to the office. And what is more, both have agreed to abide by the decision of the Supreme Court. Mr. Kendrick does not promise the same for labor.

Many contend that such laws as were passed by the Assembly are held desirable by rank and file union members but are being fought by labor leaders because the legislation would tend to curb their power and influence. This contention is supported to some extent at least in a remark several days ago by Charles Gillman, Georgia CIO director, when he declared: "If they take the checkoff method of collecting dues away from us, we will have to set up picket lines outside plants to check whether union members have paid their dues."

Labor leaders have a perfect right to fight the legislation in question if they believe it disruptive to their unions. By no stretch of the imagination, however, do they have the right to advocate anarchy or disobedience to the law. By doing so they are laying themselves open to serious charges of irresponsibility which in the long run will ill serve the working man and his union alike. If they believe sincerely that these laws are detrimental to the welfare of labor let them give sound, basic reasons in temperate language for their objections. Hysterical threats of "retaliation" against the law will serve only to inflame the people of Georgia against labor in general.

THE PULSE OF THE PUBLIC

The Constitution welcomes letters from its readers. They must be signed, should not exceed 200 words. We regret no letters can be returned.

'Whiteness Universal'

Editor Constitution: I understand and appreciate the current insistence for the white primary. It is in strict accordance with God, nature, man and society. The cursed blacks of the sons of Ham (praise God that they are stigmatized for the world to see) must wear their badge of inferiority and sin until the final crash of the day of doom. The Supreme Intelligence, who ordered this world out of formless void, who created man from base but potentially majestic clay, has decreed that the leopard cannot change his spots. Black must remain black, and it cannot be made white. Georgia leads the nation in this simple but important perception. And I am proud and happy.

But more important are the thought, speech and action of white adults. Our minds and souls should be filled with whiteness, because whiteness is the lodestar that will bring us to the fulfillment of all our desires. Color, in any form, whether in people or in things, must be condemned. Hence, our Southern scientists and scholars must prove themselves worthy of their race and section by developing a variety of shades from bright cream to the purest white. Then, no longer will we have the absurd contradiction of Mr. Harris, pleading for white supremacy, dressed in a black suit. Only with the thoughtful and consistent action of our leaders can we achieve the pure whiteness of the North Star in a brilliant Summer sky.

God is our teacher. Beneath us He placed the black, putrid dirt; about us He planted the hills and valleys with the varied colors of Spring and Fall, but only above us did He hang the pure whiteness of the ascending cloud.

Let us begin moving now toward whiteness universal.

HENRY THOMAS.
Atlanta.

Chosen Few?

Editor Constitution: I, too, am a student of law in one of the evening colleges, and the prospects of H. R. Bill No. 145 even being considered, much less passed, causes and excites me to great concern. Not so much the fact that I am a member of an evening school, but that a person's ability to be a successful lawyer is a matter of fact, not a matter of law or degree. And to bear this out, we have only to look about us to see prominent lawyers who gained their legal background through means other than formal education. The bar exam has shown in too many occasions to recall that education from any given institution is not the reason for failure or success in passing these tests, because any good lawyer will agree that most of our law comes from appellate decisions, these decisions of which must be read by the student himself to acquire this information. Schools make this task somewhat easier by explaining points not readily understood by the beginner, but for the most part it is up to the student himself.

But if a requirement were imposed by law which in effect would force a prospective lawyer to go to a school, not of his own choice, institutions of learning now or to be in existence which did not become a part of the chosen few, would be forced to cease operations.

WILLIAM A. FOSTER.
Decatur.

'Self-Willed Desires'

Editor Constitution: Mr. Jerome Caldwell, Sr., evidently did not read the decisions he criticizes of Messrs. Hendrix and Almand, learned judges, of Fulton County. These gentlemen could, no doubt, have created a better constitution but, as it existed, their duty could not have been better performed.

In our Government, the legislative, judicial and executive powers are separated into distinct departments, none of which shall have authority over either of the others. All officials of one department must be subject to the laws of the land as administered by the other two departments.

Without and within Georgia there are those who would, by destructive criticism, impede the progress of the State. They compose neither the strong, the weak, the wise nor the foolish; they are good people, the salt of the earth, suffering a strange misapprehension. Self-willed desires and personal interests, for the passing moment, have gained ascendancy over their patriotism.

Georgia, as Southern traditions, will survive as the pride of worthy sons and daughters, putting to shame critics and scorners, in a new day of glorious statehood.

VESTER M. OWENBY.
Atlanta.

No Admission

Editor Constitution: I see by the paper of this date where Emory Burke make his brag that the court will not break the Columbians. He is trying to get in Talmadge class. That cannot be done in Georgia. Talmadge won't admit everyone to his party. I am not worried about it, the court has and will always handle them kind of trouble maker.

Hoover Report Pitched in Necessity

WASHINGTON—Talk and speculation as to politics are the grist for the mills of Washington. They grind constantly.

It is interesting now to find how rapidly Harry S. Truman is growing in the minds of people and of how it is reflected in the Washington conversations.

A few months ago while here the feeling was that he was finished; that the Republicans could indeed elect a Chinaman in 1948.

Today, while the Republicans still are the favorites, there is no longer any feeling they can elect a Chinaman. Indeed, the feeling is they will have to come up with a very good man to prevent Harry Truman from making a neck-and-neck race of it.

Since his victory in the dispute with John L. Lewis, Truman seems to have found the necessary political touch. Everything he has done has been right and has met with quick public acceptance.

Actions The two latest actions to further the Truman prestige were the appointment of Lewis W. Douglas as Ambassador to Great Britain and the publication of the Hoover report on Germany.

Every thoughtful person must be aware of the dismaying results to the world, and more especially to this country, should Britain fail or experience any great delay in recovery. Hence, the appointment of a career diplomat or a person unacquainted with the financial and economic problems involved in world recovery, would have been disastrous. Likewise, appointment of a person who did not fully comprehend and appreciate the importance of a stable Britain to the security of the United States, would have been most harmful.

It is quite probable that Britain will need more time and probably more assistance in the job of getting back on her feet. If such a recommendation should come from a person in whom the Congress, suspicious of foreign loans, did not have full confidence there would be simply no need to propose any help.

Experts Lewis W. Douglas fills the bill. He is personally acquainted with British leaders and he is aware of the need for Britain as a going concern. He satisfies the anti-New Deal critics because of his sharp break with the administration in 1934. He broke away over a matter of the budget when his insistence on certain economies was refused. So, the Congress knows he will not urge or suggest any unnecessary expenditures.

His choice as ambassador is one of exceptional merit.

The Herbert Hoover report, coming as it does from a former Republican President and an expert on relief problems, is so obviously sound that the public must in time come to accept it.

There will be some consternation, of course, to realize that we have fought and won a war and still are called upon to spend almost five hundred millions to feed and support the German people.

The necessity for this has been obvious to anyone who has studied the situation. All of what Mr. Hoover says has been said before. But never before has it been co-ordinated and dramatized as he has been able to do. And certainly, the report will have some chance of getting action from the Congress, coming from Herbert Hoover. It would have no chance coming from a Democrat.

Need He pitched his recommendation on grim necessity, and put, with dramatic emphasis, the humanitarian aspects of it in second place.

No thoughtful person can dispute him when he said, pointing out that the Germans have sunk to the lowest levels known in a hundred years of Western history, that if our Western civilization is to survive it must survive also in Germany. So he said and the truth of it is not to be denied.

He said something else which Americans might read and remember. He said that our flag flies over the Germans and that wherever it flies it means something besides military power.

Practical His suggestions, of rushing seed potatoes to Germany, of manning idle Liberty ships with German crews, of lunch programs for the children, and of turning over surplus small craft to the Germans for fishing, are most practical.

His report should supply the necessary realism to our national thinking which has been returning to the old idea that we can withdraw from the world and which has been repeating the old and tragic error of thinking of foreign policies as unrelated to domestic policies and problems.

Starving Germans or starving Austrians are dangerous to your son now attending the grammar grades.

Okay! The Darlings Can Wear Anything

It was one of those double boilers, just the shape of the one your mother used when she left old-style oatmeal to simmer over night.

This one, however, was a creation of black felt and it was poised on the lady's head. There were a couple of pheasant tail feathers sticking up in front and some varicolored, tubular material draped around it. This stuff was purple and green and red and it looked, more than anything, like oil paint looks when the baby gets hold of the tubes and squeezes with no restraint.

Now, mind you, this is written in no critical manner—I have learned my lesson.

A Lost Cause Time was, long ago, when I wrote columns of supposed satire, ridiculing the things women put upon their heads in the name of millinery. I ridiculed and sneered and scoffed and guffawed, in print. The net result? The hats got crazier.

So I am abandoning the crusade. Anyone who wishes may attempt to inject a 1/1000th of one percent of sense into feminine millinery. I'm giving up. It can't be done.

In future, every hat I see perched or hung or dumped on any female coiffure is beautiful, marvelous, smart, stylish, attractive, everything it should be. It suits to perfection the peculiar type of loveliness of the creature who wears it and it is utterly miraculous, my dear, how you ever found such a delicious concoction.

You may, if you wish, appear in public wearing your grandmother's old nightcap, the knitted thing she tied on when she went to bed in an unheated bedroom. (Some of you do wear these heirlooms, I'm sure. I've seen 'em.)

You can snip off a length of that old stove pipe that's been rusting in some junk yard, ram it down to your ears, dab a touch of that dried-out paint the men left in that empty can the last time they worked on your house, and call that millinery, too. (Some of you wear these things, too. I've seen 'em.)

Quite All Right It's quite all right with me. Sure, sure. It's millinery. What isn't? Certainly, it's smart. And suitable, too.

Nor will I hint you may have paid a somewhat high price for the thing. So long as you or dad or husband or whoever can meet the bill, it's still quite all right.

Certainly, it is a product of genius. Of art. An inspiration.

Of course, the result, just whispered between you and me, is quite often ridiculous. But tell the dear girls that. Keep 'em happy.

From now on, I'm looking at all millinery with the approving, not the critical, eye.

They're absolutely wonderful, all of 'em.

"Public Opinion Poll now indicates swing to pessimism as greater fear of A-Bomb mounts."—News story caption.

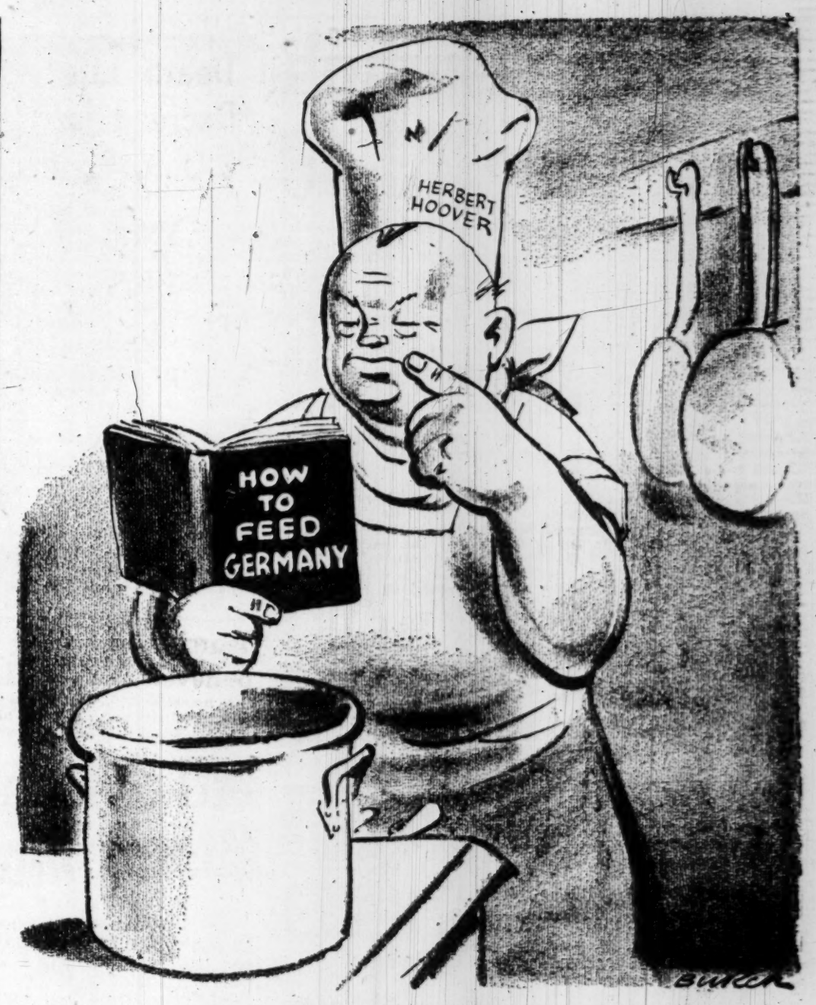

We would not care to minimize the danger that before us lies,
For optimism, overdone, can do a lot more harm than none.
While pessimists, we must admit (although they bore us just a bit),
Expect the worst and they prepare for burdens they may have to bear.

But, oh, how many futile tears we shed because of fancied fears;
Imagination is a boon, but we'll go crazy as a loon
If we permit it to demand the worst, to take the upper hand,
When, by a little stern control, it strengthens and sustains the soul.

We spray our noses, mop out throats, and put on heavy overcoats,
For we so often have been told that queer diseases, manifold,
Begin with some quite sudden chill and make a person very ill.
Then, warmly clad from head to feet, we make our way across the street,
We gaily hum a little song until a taxi comes along,
The harbinger of direst luck, or we are smitten by a truck,
Or in some unexpected ways, jot down the total of our days.

Is our discussed and vaunted faith an apparition and a wraith?
Or can we profit, since we know that, when we must, we gotta go
And all the plans of mice and men will scarce suffice to serve us then?

Erase the furrows from the brow and be as placid as the cow,
The cow that may be waiting for the journey to the abattoir,
But in contentment chews her cud, unheeding that her name is mud.
If we must tremble lest we fall, then what's the use to live at all;
Why not be satisfied to beat the dust of sorrow from the feet—
Let pessimists and critics carp while we whang gaily on the harp?

'Mmmm . . . Let's See, the Chickens Are Out . . .'

Training Is Needed

All of us have intellectual limitations as we have physical limitations. Chinese coolies carry 400 pounds on their backs, yet the ordinary man does well to shoulder 100.

I would soon reach my limit in higher mathematics. No matter how long I might study, I could never comprehend the theorems of Einstein.

SOME kids get through high school but cannot make the grade in college. Others lose interest in the ninth, seventh or fifth grade simply because they can't learn more. Some who could go higher quit trying because they are bored by books and "book learning."

When kids like these quit school, it doesn't mean they are "dumb." People who can't learn music may be wizards in math. There is a diversity of gifts.

Those who dislike books may become good and useful and successful citizens. In fact, they are likely to be the best qualified workers in our modern industrial system.

Assembly line production is now almost universal. It requires the worker to stand in one place and repeat the same simple operation, always at top speed, hour after hour, six days a week.

Only stolid, phlegmatic people without nerves or imagination can do such work without cracking up. They seem to enjoy it.

BUT STUDIES made by psychologists show that men with keen minds—who are born to create and lead, cannot stand the strain. They hate the work and it bores them. Since the state of mind largely determines the state of the body, boredom affects them like physical exhaustion. They feel resentful; the nervous strain ages them rapidly; and in their late forties they can no longer keep the required pace. They are tragic victims of a system that wastes them on a job for which they are not qualified.

People without high-strung nerves or imagination are made for assembly-line jobs. And they are the ones who quit school because our educational system denies them a fair chance. It doesn't offer the kind of training they need and will take.

The old idea of educating gentlemen for their own profit and pleasure may still apply to college, but public schools should train youngsters to be successful in the kind of life for which Nature has fitted them. Their inability to absorb higher education is no reason to deny them the training they can use.

JOHN MARVIN RAST

Art thou a master of Israel, and knowest not these things?—John 3:10.

The Master's piercing inquiry of Nicodemus placed that eminent teacher of Israel on the defensive. The new birth really was not new. It was inscribed in the divine revelation from the beginning. Our Lord so affirmed in the passage related to Nicodemus when He said: "And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of man be lifted up: that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have eternal life." Assuredly we are without excuse. If we be not born again, we cannot plead ignorance of the requirement. As we turn toward the Father in true penitence, regeneration begins, and the miracle of grace perfects us in praise.

Lord God, Thou art our hope. Hear us as we come confessing our need of Thy salvation. Stay our affections upon Thee. Mold us in the image of Thy Son our Redeemer.

The Stork Refuses To Deliver the Male

Crown Princess Juliana of Holland has given birth to her fourth daughter.

Who is this Eddie Cantor?

Juliana has taken away Snow White's theme song, "Some Day My Prince Will Come."

This is an age of specialization and Juliana is going in for girls. But four princesses isn't so bad. Already they can get up a table of bridge without calling in a commoner.

And look at the saving on clothes . . . or will the littlest princess rebel at ermine hand-me-downs?

Besides, if things get too tough in monarchial circles, they can always do a sister act in vaudeville.

Many had hoped the new arrival would be a boy so Holland one day could have a king. But any poker player can tell them that four queens are mighty hard to beat.

GEORGIA EDITORS SAY:

On the State Teacher Crisis

STATESMANSHIP NEEDED
(DeKalb New Era)

If ever there was a time when the State of Georgia needed statesmen it is now. After the War Between the States when an avalanche of woes, disorders and confusions was descending upon us there arose statesmen of the highest order to lead us. It has been said that a great leader arises from a people to meet every perilous situation. If there is a Moses in Georgia that could extricate us from our confusions he must be a deaf mute. For the very heart of Georgia is calling for a great leader. But none answer.

What Georgia needs now very desperately are real statesmen. What she calls for now are men who are leaders untrammeled by political ties that dictate, men who are completely unselfish and who think first of Georgia rather than their own popularity here or elsewhere. What Georgia wants are men who will take our people's high ideals and lofty aims and translate them into actualities of State Government. What Georgia longs for is a Toombs to fire them, a Hill to wisely lead them, a Stephens to sagely advise them.

NEED FOR FUNDS
(Brunswick News)

In connection with school expenditures, State School Superintendent M. D. Collins said at the close of the year that Southern States can confidently expect more help from the educational foundations. He said that the General Education Board, the Rockefeller Foundation, and the Southern Educational Foundation at Gulfport, Miss., are more interested in education in the South than ever before, and they have agreed that additional help is needed. This, of course, is all to the good. Yet, Georgia, among Southern States, can go a long way towards helping itself. This State is not too poor to have the best schools in the world. Its legislature has done considerable during the past six years. But the public must be aroused to the need for more funds if the State is to secure any further gains along the educational front.

HIGHER TEACHER PAY
(Dawson News)

Teachers in our public schools in nearly every state in the nation are demanding higher salaries. In many sections of the country teachers have banded together to enforce their demands. Strikes have occurred in many cities and in one instance schools were closed more than a month. Georgia teachers were given a 50 percent boost, but unless the legislature provides additional funds it is problematical whether this increase will be sustained during the current year.

The cost of living for teachers has increased substantially in the past few years, just as it has for every other profession. To begin with teachers have always been poorly paid. It has not been but a few years ago that many Georgia teachers received as low as $50 per month. Many laborers make this much in a week's time. Take a bricklayer, for instance, he now commands $1.50 to $2 per hour, which is more than the average grade teacher receives in this and other states. A bricklayer does not necessarily have to be a college graduate with a degree to lay brick. But a schoolteacher is required to have his or her degree before teaching in our high schools. A majority of our public schools require that every teacher have a degree before they are employed.

We would like to see every teacher in Georgia schools be paid commensurate with their services to the public.

IF—BUT
(Walker County Messenger.)

If the citizens of Georgia should exert as much energy, time, money and effort to solving our school problems, as a large number have in trying to select a Governor, we would soon be on the road to good schools, properly equipped and financed all over Georgia, and this is the State's Crying need and greatest problem.

Or if these same citizens would turn to highway construction in serious, furious efforts to get Georgia out of the mud, my how fast paved roads would be built.

Or if the leaders and their coworkers who are not leaving a stone unturned to get their favorite in the Governor's chair, would direct all their steam, thinking, time and money toward building up the real life of the church, and we suspect all of them are members of some church, the result would be an awakened people religiously, and aroused and alert and dynamic ministry, and the Kingdom of peace and goodwill will be the resultant benediction upon a great people.

But because they do none of these things; rather seek their own aggrandizement to become personal beneficiaries of a certain administration, the school problem still languished and our children suffer; our roads still remain impassable in the winter months, and our churches struggle on with the faithful few, shorn of a new dynamic.

Maybe someday not too far distant the situation will change and there will be those in such large numbers who will serve the people, that demagoguery, selfish power seeking and personal gain at the expense of the State, will be the rule instead of the exception. Anyway, it is a goal, though distant it may be, toward which every honest citizen should work in his own community.

Death, Life Decreed for 2 Ohio Youths

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, Feb. 28 (AP)—Death in the electric chair for one 16-year-old high school student and life imprisonment for the second was imposed Friday by a three-judge court for the slaying of a salesman whose car the youths wanted to use in a $5,000 kidnap plot.

Don Frohner received the death sentence but his companion, Arthur Chapman, also 16, was given mercy, making the life sentence mandatory. Both pleaded guilty to killing William Spieth, 52, of Ashtabula, when he resisted their attempts to take his car.

"These kids are like the leopards who can't change their spots," said Defense Atty. David C. Haynes, in his summation.

"I know what's wrong and so do you gentlemen," he said. "Too damned many bridge - playing mothers, too damned many cold suppers for son and father to come home to; too much afternoon drinking and evening drinking."

Now staying with Mr. and Mrs. Lon Shealy, of 502 West Ontario Street, S. W., Mrs. Copeland said she has not heard from her son since last Mother's Day.

Jap Election Expenses Limited to 100,000 Yen

TOKYO, Feb. 28—(AP)—The Japanese Government has increased the legal maximum expenditures for individual candidates in the April National Election to 100,000 yen ($6,000)—ten times the limit for the 1946 election.

But political circles, ever cynical, are saying:

"If you can spend 1,000,000 yen you are sure to be elected and if you have 500,000 yen there is a good chance.

"If you only have 300,000 yen, don't run."

PRINTED PATTERN

By ALICE WEST

There's a sleight-of-hand magic in this two-piece outfit designed to make any figure look as slim as a reed and just as beguiling. Made from Printed Pattern 1898, it comes in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38. Size 14 requires 2⅛ yards of 39-inch material.

Directions are printed on each pattern piece to show you what it is, where it goes and how to match it to its mate.

FREE! With the pattern you order you will receive an eight-page fashion book, featuring Spring styles, illustrated in full color.

Send 25c in coins, securely wrapped, your name, address and zone clearly printed, size desired and pattern number to: Pattern Service, The Atlanta Constitution, P. O. Box 5055, Atlanta, Ga.
